

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes admiring the wonders of America as they motor through the famous Thompson canyon in Colorado.

Mrs. Waldo Pierce, New York society woman, who hopes to become an aviator in the French army. Her husband is now with the American Ambulance Corps in France. Mrs. Pierce is shown here oiling up her machine at Garden City, L. I.

(Copyright, 1916, International Film Service.)

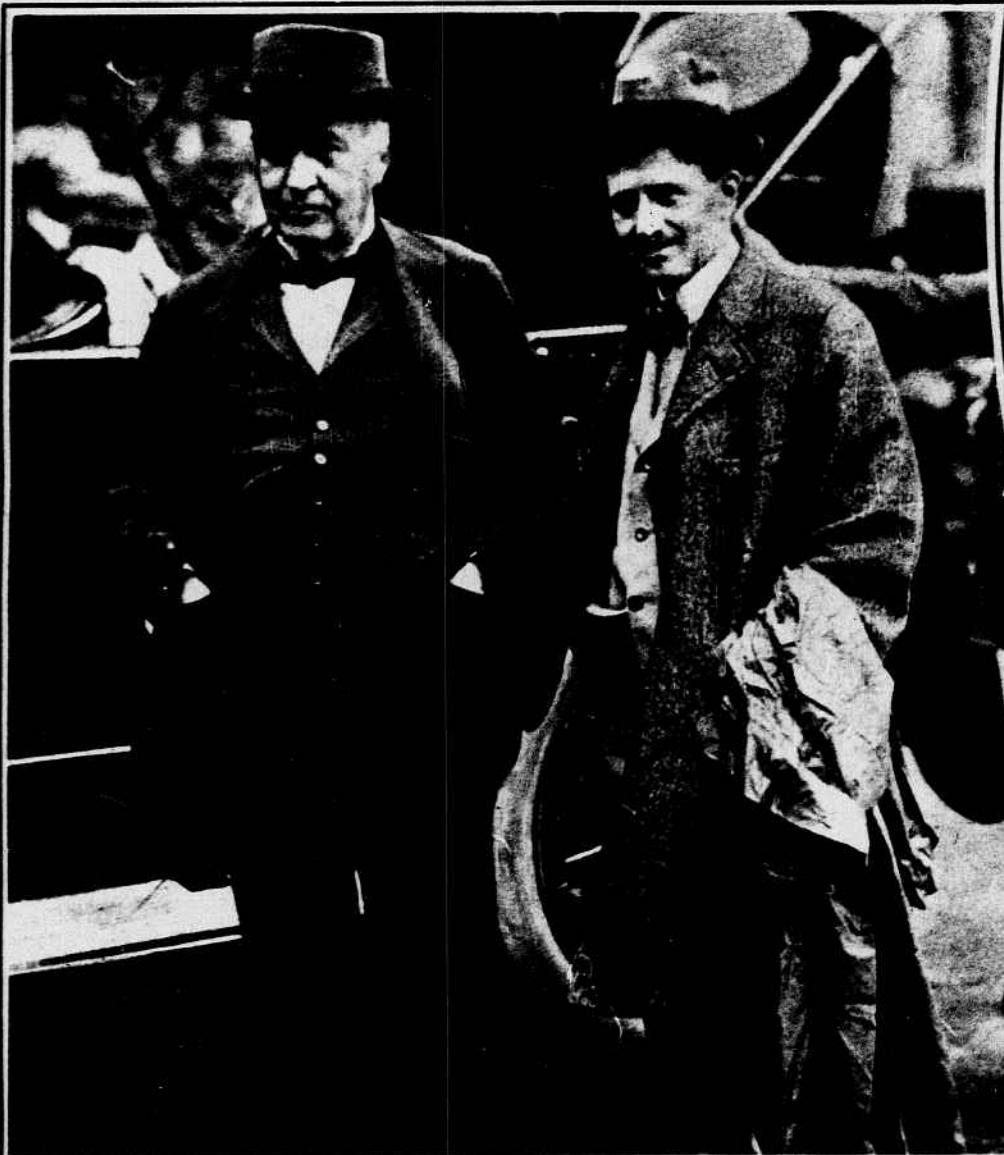

Miss Signe Patterson of Sweden, who recently entertained New York society in one of the parks there with the Hawaiian hula dance.

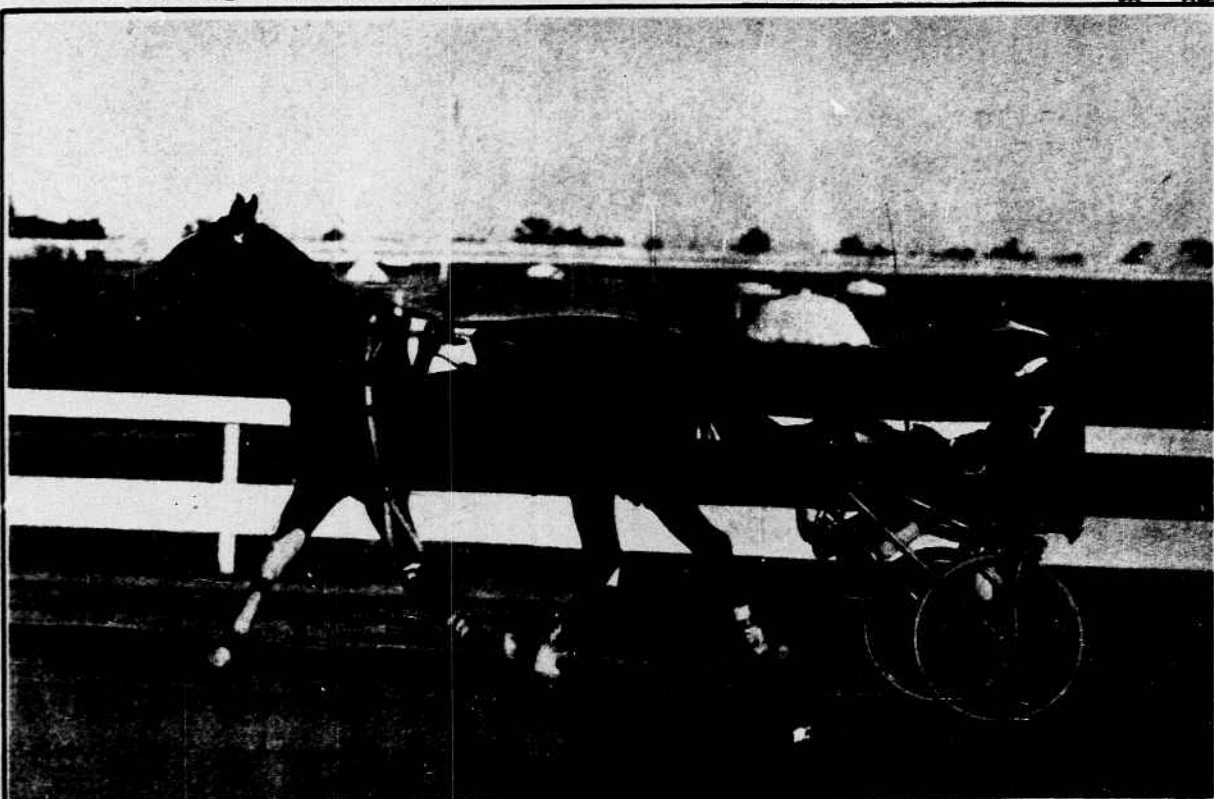

(Copyright, 1916, International Film Service.)

Miss Mabel Furry of Seattle, Wash., who has won the distinction of being the girl Sandow of the Harvard Summer School. She was picked as the strongest out of a class of 218.

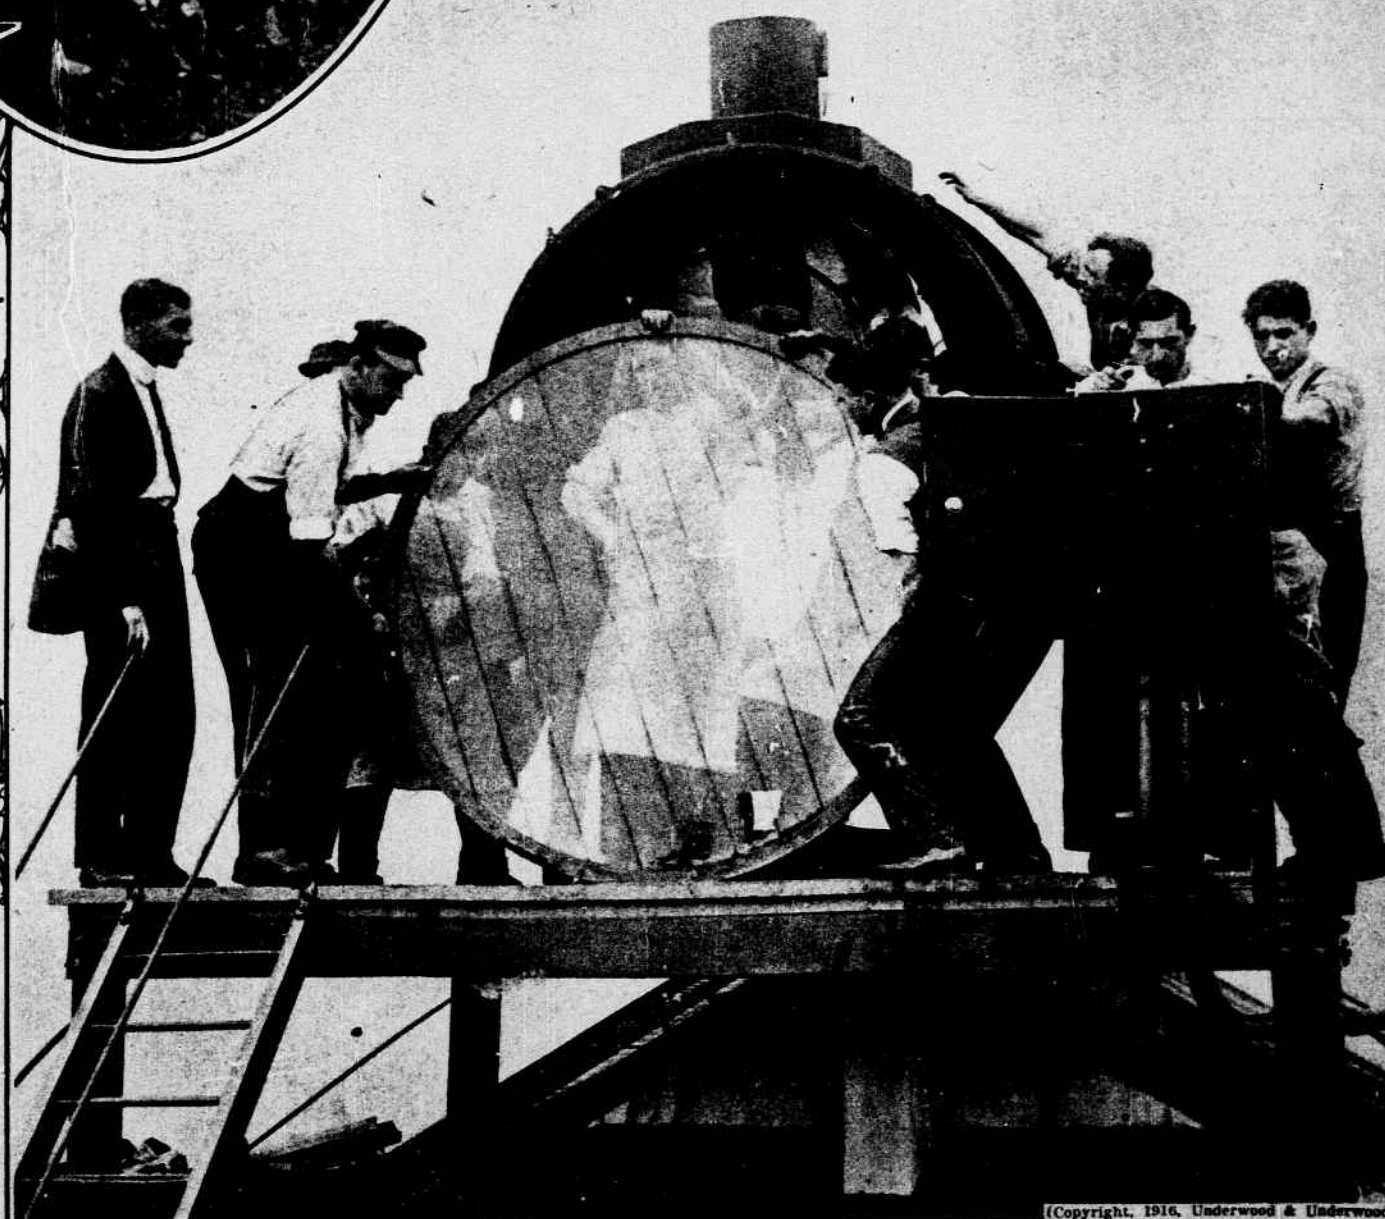

Thomas A. Edison, the inventive genius, abandons the realm of the scientific world to spend a few weeks' vacation in the Adirondacks, next to nature. He is here shown departing with H. S. Firestone.

(Copyright, 1916, Underwood & Underwood.)

Directum I, who recently broke the world pacing record for a mile and one-eighth at Cleveland. Her time was 2.16 1/4. The previous record was 2.20. (Copyright, 1916, International Film Service.)

(Copyright, 1916, Underwood & Underwood.)

Largest and most powerful searchlight in the world on building on Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn. The lens is so strong that if used as a sunglass it could set a building on fire.